

Upper Berth

Lowest priced of all Pullman sleeping accommodations, the upper berth is a full-size comfortable bed equipped with a soft, sleep-inviting mattress. The bed is prepared with crisp linen, warm blankets and two fluffy pillows. Other conveniences include clothes hangers, a rack for toilet articles and underclothing, individually controlled reading lights and a porter call bell. A safety ladder makes access and exit easy. Berth curtains assure complete privacy.

Hangers help keep clothing neat.

Lower Berth

The cushions of the daytime section seats drop down to form a base for the innerspring mattress of the lower berth. There's a shelf for toilet articles or an overnight case, hangers and a rack for clothing, heavy curtains to insure privacy and ample space for luggage.

Seats can be adjusted to suit your needs.

Lights placed for proper illumination.

Women's Dressing Room

There is a dressing room for women in each car having section and berth accommodations. Sparkling clean at all times, its furnishings include a dressing table, chairs, wash basins and a generous number of mirrors. There is plenty of soap and hot water, an ample supply of fresh towels and a wealth of well-diffused light. The toilet is in a separate annex.

Men's Dressing Room

This masculine room contains all the conveniences needed for proper grooming. There are big wash basins with well-lighted mirrors, a dental basin, automatic soap dispensers, electric razor outlets, wall hooks for clothes and a shelf for shaving equipment. It is also an ideal room for lounging and smoking. A full-length mirror graces the door leading to the private toilet.

Single and Double Slumbercoach Rooms

In addition to the standard Pullman accommodations illustrated in this folder, Pullman also provides service in Slumbercoach cars operated on some trains at coach rail fares plus a modest room charge. Each slumbercoach room contains private washstand and toilet facilities. The single room has a fold-away bed while the double room has both upper and lower bed for night-time slumber.

The lounge car with its luxurious furnishings is there for you to enjoy. Relax in deep, comfortable chairs and read the latest magazines or sit back and marvel at the constantly changing scenery. Like a private club, you will find that congenial atmosphere and pleasant companionship makes time quickly pass by... much too quickly.
